

I have a lot of passion for working in IT industry. I have leadership and management quality to get the most from myself and the team that I am working with, to support this I have hands on practice on different projects in different domain like Data Science, Machine Learning and Web Development which I think can fulfil the position requirement.

Along with that having knowledge on Data Structure and Algorithm will help solve the problems efficiently.

From this, I will get the chance to work with the most reputed company and be able to grow as an individual and help grow company.
